“Colors can be used to dazzle, charm, irritate, agitate, annoy or soothe. Color can be vibrant, powerful, exuberant, lively, youthful and welcoming... universally recognizable, understood and accepted by different communities and cultures.” Join us during Black History Month, with invited artist Jamaal Eversley, as he shares his visual journey of balance, harmony, and chaos through color, design, and pattern.

Jamaal Eversley Reception & Gallery Talk
Tuesday, February 17, 2015, 10 AM - Noon
Light refreshments served.